Bought this item to save on papaer towel cost. However these napkins seem to dissolve when you go to dry your hands. They are expensive for the quality.

Compostables Store About Compostables Sustainability Conscious Living Events About Us

Utensils - 200F

Our new utensils are made from TPLA 70% non-GMO PLA and 30% talc. They are also heat resistant up to 200 degrees F, and are certified under ASTM-6400 standards and now have BPI Certification.

World Centric TPLA/Talc utensils are compostable and biodegradable, and will take 120+ days to compost in a commercial composting facility. Home composting is not recommended and it may take 1-2 yrs to compost in a home composting system.

Most current utensils on the market made from plant starch are NOT compostable since current technology does not allow for manufacturing plant starch utensils without adding some plastic fillers. Since these plant starch utensils do not meet compostability standards they are normally priced cheaper.

The Tear Drop shaped opening in the handle of our cutlery is the trademark of World Centric Corporation.*

These products are BPI (Biodegradables Product Institute) Certified.
