This was the introductory email from the class I'm taking this year. The syllabus is attached. I'll try to find something from the class I took last year with Ms. Purvis. That was Earth and Space Science. This year is Life Science. Both have touched on teaching environmental issues.

Hope this helps!

Kate

Hello everyone,

This is Kevin, Melissa and Keyshawn, your STEM Academy instructors.

We're really excited to start class tomorrow at 5 p.m. The class is held at the Johns Hopkins School of Education, 2800 N. Charles Street, Baltimore, 21218. Our class room is Room 216.

There is a parking lot at SOE, but it is pay to park. There is also street parking that many usually opt for.

If possible, please bring headphones to class tomorrow as we will need them at a certain point.

We're also sending along a syllabus, if your'e interested in looking at it before we start class. Please be prompt. We'll start on time so that we can get out at 7:30 p.m.

See you all tomorrow!

Best,
Melissa, Kevin and Keyshawn
